

ThrottleUp

A product brief for affiliates: what the app does, who it is for, and how it makes money.

What it is

ThrottleUp is a build-log and parts ledger for people who work on their own motorcycles and cars. Photo-driven entries, receipt tracking per part, service history per vehicle, and a community feed of public builds. Native iOS, designed for one-handed use in the garage.

Who it is for

Wrenchers, project-bike owners, custom-builders, daily-driver tuners. The audience skews 25-45, male majority, deep European motorcycle community plus US restomod scene. Creators who sit well: garage-vlog channels, build-thread Instagram pages, "what did I spend on this bike" carousels, oil-change tutorials, parts-cost comparisons.

Key features

- Build log per vehicle: photo entry, freeform notes, dated timeline, multi-bike support (Premium).
- Parts ledger: every part you buy goes in with cost, vendor, install date, receipt photo. Lifetime sum visible per vehicle.
- Service tracker: oil, brake fluid, tyre pressure, chain tension, scheduled intervals. Push reminders based on mileage or time.
- VIN decoder: scan or type a VIN, the app pre-fills make, model, year, engine.
- Public profile + community feed: opt-in sharing of builds, with proximity-aware discovery and upvote.
- Cover photos and trip publishing: integrated with ride-recording so a trip becomes a shareable artefact.

Business model

Single revenue stream, one-time purchase.

Premium one-time purchase

- Price: 39 EUR, one-time, no subscription.
- Free tier: full build-log + parts-ledger functionality for 1 bike, 1 ride group up to 4 members, manual logging, public sharing.

- Premium unlocks: unlimited bikes/vehicles, larger ride groups (more members and more groups), no other artificial limits.
- Deliberate design choice: the team rejected sub-monetisation for ThrottleUp because the audience values "buy once, own forever" over recurring fees. Conversion holds even without a sub upsell.

Affiliate compensation

- 25 percent of the 39 EUR Premium purchase for 12 months of attribution from install.
- 30-day refund holdback before payout (Apple's standard).
- 50 EUR / USD minimum payout, monthly, via Wise, PayPal or SEPA.

Why this works as an affiliate pitch

One-time-purchase audiences are notoriously hard to monetise for affiliates because there is no recurring stream. ThrottleUp's 25 percent share on a 39 EUR ticket is a healthy 9.75 EUR per conversion, and the attribution window means every install in the next year counts. Wrencher audiences also have high purchase intent: people who watch garage content are people who buy garage software. Conversion from a single well-placed reel routinely beats consumer-app benchmarks.

Stand: 2026-05-22 - getklar.org - Alain Kessler, sole proprietorship CH.